Subject: Testimonial – Custodian Backoffice (David Dillon)

Date: 28.05.2019

To Whom It May Concern,

Supercontext first started with Custodian Backoffice in May 2017. David reviewed our business and helped us with budgeting, reporting, job costing and forecasting which pushed up into our sales funnel, where David challenged us to think strategically about our future direction.

David's expertise in the Architecture profession allowed him to quickly understand our business and offer a fresh perspective and pragmatic advice. We found David to be honest, understanding and available, with a genuine interest in our own success. The principles and questions he put in place and asked of us as we started out remain fundamental parts of how we continue to grow and approach our business strategy. David's skills will help any business get their ship in order and looking to the future with optimism. We can recommend Custodian Backoffice to you without hesitation.

For any further queries, please do not hesitate to contact the undersigned directly.
